Fish Recruitment are very proud to announce that they have been awarded by de Poel the 'Gold Standard Agency Award' de Poel revealed their unique 'Gold Standard' initiative during a series of agency seminars which took place across the country at the end of February. de Poel Consulting Ltd is an organisation who consult with blue chip companies and offer them recruitment solutions including creating agency panels who they see are fully compliant to supply such clientele.

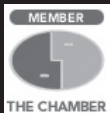

Over 170 agencies registered an interest in becoming 'Gold Standard' 60 agencies were then short listed and only 30 agencies nationwide were selected to receive the 'Gold Standard Agency Award'. Once selected the agencies must maintain and agree to the process criteria as they will be eligible to supply across de Poel's client base. In return companies who regularly use temps will have better and more reliable access to proven suppliers who offer a quality assured service at more competitive rates.

Companies can also be confident that Fish Recruitment and all agencies selected are fully compliant and carry the appropriate levels of insurance and have been audited and will be regularly audited by de Poel. Therefore 'Gold Standard' represents the pinnacle of de Poel's agency panel selection process. The selection procedure is already established as a carefully designed process that identifies agencies most capable of delivering consistently high service levels and value to de Poel's growing client base.

Louise Mercer and Suzanne Winton established Fish Recruitment in March 2005 and have built up a successful and professional recruitment agency. Louise and Suzanne say, "We are absolutely delighted with receiving the 'Gold Standard Agency Award' as it reflects our hard work and dedication that we have demonstrated over the past two years."
